Compact Tractor Attachments

LOFLIN FABRICATION

Loflin Fabrication LLC began in 1993 as two guys doing favors for a few friends. Greg Loflin and Terry Ferrell worked in a local factory and used skid steers in their spare time. Both men had developed welding, mechanical, and engineering knowledge – not only from working in manufacturing, but from their hobbies and outside activities as well. These guys came from families of farmers and contractors – they understood the need for a quality product at a fair price.

The business started in a 3000 square foot “hand made” metal building constructed behind Greg’s house. He and Terry worked weekends welding it together. The frame of the building was erected from scrapped metal furniture racks. A few prototypes of various attachments were completed and given to friends that worked this equipment. Research and development came through feedback from people who actually use the products. They immediately developed a reputation for exceptional workmanship and quick delivery. Advertising came by word of mouth.

Loflin Fabrication has maintained focus on quality and value – no compromise...no exception! The business expanded from a couple of welding machines to a 140,000 square foot manufacturing facility with the state of the art equipment required to meet customer demands and expectations. Laser and plasma cutters, robotic welders, and a complete machine shop – are just part of what it takes to remain an industry leader! Extensive use of fixtures and jigs help insure quality in the manufacturing process. Using feedback from customers constantly looking to improve productivity and job cost, research and development has continued to center on industry demand!

Keeping overhead low and in-house manufacturing have been two major keys to the success of this business. Another key, our workforce! Local people that are proud of what they build!

A large inventory of attachments are kept in stock to assure quick delivery. The dealership base is constantly increasing. For more information about the full line of attachments and for the dealer nearest you, check our web page www.loflinfabrication.com or call toll free 1-866-859-4333.
